CONCUSSION: THE BASICS

What is a concussion?

A concussion is a brain injury that cannot be seen on routine x-rays, CT scans or MRIs. Any blow to the head, face or neck, or a blow to the body that jars the head, could cause a concussion.

What are the signs and symptoms of a concussion?

What should I do if I suspect a concussion?

Anyone with a suspected concussion should be checked out by a medical doctor.

If any red flag symptoms are present, get medical help immediately.

If the person is unconscious, call an ambulance. Do not move the person or remove any equipment, such as a helmet, in case of a spine injury.

How long does a concussion last?

The symptoms of a concussion often start to improve within 10-14 days but may last longer. In some cases, it can take weeks or months to heal. If you have had a concussion before, you may take longer to heal the next time.

How is a concussion treated?

Care for a concussion can involve a variety of treatments and a team of health professionals, depending on the symptoms and how a person's condition improves. Common recommendations would include rest in the early days, followed by a gradual return to activity under the supervision of a medical professional.

Where can I get more information?

Behaviour Management Procedures

It is a goal of the BGCS to provide a healthy, safe, and secure environment for all participants. The BGCS teaches the core values of caring, honesty, respect and responsibility. Children who attend the program are expected to follow the behaviour guidelines and to interact appropriately in a group setting. Failure to follow these guidelines may result in suspension.

Behaviour Guidelines

- People are responsible for their actions.
- We respect each other and the environment.
- Honesty is the basis of all relationships and interactions.
- We care for ourselves and those around us.

When a child does not follow the behaviour guidelines, we will take the following steps:

- 1) A staff member directs the child to more appropriate behaviour.
- 2) The child is reminded of the behaviour guidelines and rules, and a discussion will take place.
- 3) If the inappropriate behaviour continues, staff will document the situation. This written documentation includes: what the inappropriate behaviour is, what provoked the situation, and then a solution to the problem for future choices. The staff notifies the Program Coordinator. The Program Coordinator will discuss the situation with parent.
- 4) If the inappropriate behaviour continues the Program Coordinator will discuss the situation with parent to come up with a plan to manage inappropriate behaviour.

If inappropriate behaviour continues to disrupt the program, BGCS reserves the right to suspend the child from the program.

Photographs are taken throughout each program. A photograph taken of your child at the Club allows us to represent activities and programs that we carry out to our funders and the community. By signing the consent line on the registration form you authorize the Boys & Girls Club of Sarnia-Lambton to use pictures of your child in their advertising and promotional materials. These materials may be used for internal and external use but may not be sold to any external parties. HIGH FIVE ... Because Quality Matters

High FIVE is a quality assurance program designed to support the safety, well-being and healthy development of children in recreation and sport programs.

HIGH FIVE is committed to assisting children along the path of healthy development by: ensuring that recreation and sport practitioners develop a high level of knowledge and expertise in child development; helping parents to make informed choices; and providing practitioners with tools for enhancing and maintaining a high level of program quality.

HIGH FIVE is a program of Parks & Recreation Ontario, and is supported by the Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Recreation, and the Ontario Trillium Foundation.

HIGH FIVE:

- * provides tools, training and resources to program providers
- * supports organizations using these tools, training and resources
- * provides HIGH organizations with the opportunity to achieve HIGH FIVE accreditation
- * educates parents and the public about the importance of sport and recreation and the need for quality programs

Organizations engaged in HIGH FIVE provide children's programs that:

- * Help children develop friendships
- * Have caring adults
- * Encourage children to play
- * Respect and support the uniqueness and diversity of each child
- * Encourage participation
- * Support a sense of mastery
- * Are safe
- * Provide age appropriate environment, activities and equipment

HIGH FIVE measures quality by evaluating:

- * How children are treated
- * How children treat each other
- * How the program connects to home
- * How leaders behave with each other and children
- * Safety and supervision
- * Program and activities
- * Environment and Equipment

Why HIGH FIVE?

Children reap many benefits from participating in sport and recreation activities. These activities help children keep fit, develop personal and social skills, and decrease the chance that they will exhibit self-destructive or anti-social behaviours. Most of all, they can be FUN.

But ... for all the good things that children get out of sport and recreation activities, they can have a negative impact too. For every child who learns to hit a ball for the first time, there is a child who is yelled at by an overzealous coach or gets chosen last for games.

Organizations enrolled in HIGH FIVE are committed to ensuring that EVERY child has a positive sport and recreation experience. They work to achieve this goal by providing quality programs that are safe, fun and child-centered.
